

NORTH SANTIAM 15-Year Vision

Towns along the North Santiam Corridor form a community, revitalized by the natural beauty surrounding them and the thriving tourism economy it sustains. Businesses support each other, sending visitors up and down the canyon, from one adventure to another – one business to the next. The corridor now marks a journey in its own right, each town a portal into a new experience in nature taking visitors to the banks of rivers and Detroit Lake, trail heads and dark skies.

The destination has a place for all types of nature lovers – from adrenaline seeking paddlers to silent star gazers. Visitors come year-round, enticed by friendly locals, the restoration of quiet forests or challenging trails, and opportunities to paddle and fish, or simply rest.
